Aver's Hair Vigor was good, the best that was made. But Ayer's Hair Vigor, new improved formula, is better. I is the one great specific for falling hair. A new preparation in every way. New bottle. New contents. Ask your druggist to show it to you, "the new kind." Does not change the color of the hatr.

As we now make our new Hair Vigor it does not have the slightest effect upon the color of the hair. You may use it freely and for any length of time with-out fear of changing the color. Stops falling hair. Gures dandruff. tade by the J. C. Aver Co., Lowell, Mann.-

Though the ranks of the civil war veterans are growing thinner all the time, the pension list steadily increases. The report of the Columbus peasion agency through which the pensioners of the state of Ohfo are paid shows that there were 94,428 pansioners at the close of the quarter, an increase of 220 over the July quarter. This increase is due to the age act, granting all soldiers over 68, no matter what their service was, a monthly pension of $12. The total amount paid in pensions in Ohio during the last quarter was $4,039,000.

The Country Boy In The City.

The best capital that a boy can have to start in the city is that which grows naturally in the soil of the country home, says George Warburton in the October Designer. The primitive sim-plicity which is found there is in harmony with the truest art. The old house, with its gable ends and overhanging eaves, the big chimney in the center, into which the swifts dart in the cloaming, has a beauty seldom equaled. The kitchen, the parlor, the rag car-pets woven on the home loom; the simple furniture, bureaux with drawers full of mystery and redolent with the scent of lavender. There's the garden enclosed by the picket fence, the sunflowers, the hollyhocks and the nasturtiums, the bed of pinks and sweet wil-liams and rows of sweet peas and, fur-thur on, the potatoes and the peas, beans and cucumbers, the rows of lettuce and parsiey. Of course there is all out-of-doors where a boy can live and grow. unconventional, the farm and its life has supplied him with physical energy that will make it possible for him to live in the midst of the drains that the city life will surely make upon him.

The city is under great obligations to the country boy. He brings with him fresh supplies of moral earnestness and strength. He is, in fact, typical of our best American life, and if he did not answer to the lure of the city the moral conditions of the great centers of population would soon become intolerable. The city can never be self-sufficient. It must draw on the country for its sup-ply of manhood just as it must for its wheat and for its other food supplies.
The atmosphere of the city tends to demoralization. Even the wealth which is so dominant and so determining in fixing the social status of city folks is pregnant with moral danger. Crime multiplies rapidly in the surroundings of the city. Morals are not elevated as tenement houses increase the numbers of their population or push their walls higher toward the sky.

Dispute Over Right to Fish in a Ten nessee Lake Ends in Tragedy-$10,000 Reward for Arrest of Murderers.

Union City, Tenn., Oct. 21.-Advices from Reelfoot Lake, where masked men early Tuesday took Col. R. Z. Taylor, aged 60 years, and Capt. Quentin Rankin, both prominent lawyers of Trenton, out of their hotel at that place and murdered the latter, fail to report the finding of Col. Taylor's body, or to reveal any trace of his whereabouts, and it is thought that Col. Taylor may have escaped,

Capt, Rankin's body was found Tuesday riddled with bullets and hanging from a tree one mile from the hotel,

The trouble between inhabitants on the banks of Reelfoot Lake and Taylor and Rankin originated several years ago when the two latter men organized the West Tennessee Land Co., bought Reelfoot Lake from nonresident property owners and made regulations of their own concerning fishing privileges. Col. Taylor also secured the passage in the legislature of an act making it a misdefeanor to fish in the lake without paying a heavy fee.

A man named Powell, who hauls fish from Walnut Log to Hickman, is said to have been forced to accompany the mob, which numbered about permitted to return to their beds.

Powell says that after killing Ranscape of Taylor.
